Session 7 : Challenges and opportunities of building inclusive societies

MIS Public Open Dialogues

Connective series fostering open dialogues and reciprocal knowledge transfer between academics, practitioners, and the public.

In the seventh “MIS Public Open Dialogues” session, we will focus on the challenges and opportunities of building inclusive societies. In particular, the emphasis will be on issues of vulnerability and the subjective future imaginaries in the context of migration and flight, access to rights as a path to a better inclusion, and the contribution of art as methodology to make change in inclusive societies.

Three professionals and experts will discuss barriers that constitute challenges in inclusive societies as well as factors that foster participation and inclusion.

SPEAKERS AND DISCUSSANTS

Yusra Amounah,

Co-Founder and President
